YAMADA BEE FARM

7th Honeybee Illustration Contest

At Yamada Bee Company, we appreciate all things related to bees – they are very social, they have deep connections. We think that everyone can learn from honeybees especially how it is important to interact with the world. Our mission is to let next generation think about the importance of "Nature", "Supporting each other" and "Life". Let's learn about how your actions can affect others and try to begin to understand your place in society.
